  - Launched dry-runs overnight and resolving the issues raised by that activity.
  - Running green on the TCK runs automation which are stable.
  - Progress on the JDK8 MacOS build updates.
  - No blockers at this point. Will dry-run JDK11 shortly.
  - No issues seen during build of JDK25 based on devkit updates, still to triage the tests. Note to add this to the release blog posts.
  - This will be the first release utilising dynamic agents. This will give feedback to using more in future. Settings allow for testing in one hour, which may spin up 30 VMs.
- Infrastructure DDoS response update.
  - Planned for this iteration. Not to collide with the Jenkins update undertaken recently.
  - Also need to update Jenkins to move off JDK17.
- "Committer of the Quarter" proposal.
  - This is a marketing proposal to recognise contributors and committers.
  - Was previously led by the number of contributions, but plan to modify this to assess the quality of the contributions too. This will be assessed by the PMC.

- ○ Noted that high impact changes should be celebrated. Carmen will bring forward candidates for the PMC to discuss.
- ● Review PMC membership.
  - ○ Are there any people who should be added / removed from the PMC?
  - ○ Current members are asked to consider any changes.
- ● AoB
  - ○ Carmen asked about the attestation work status.
    - i. Third-parties are invited to create attestations for the Temurin artefacts. We have a location where they can be stored.
    - ii. Needs an update to the README to explain how the process should work and help people produce these.
    - iii. Expect to work closely with the initial producers and hope that others will see the effects and also publish results.
    - iv. We will display the attestation information on our website driven by the API.
  - ○ MongoDB has noted a CVE
    - i. Andrew asked if the Mongo DB needs updating based upon the published CVE.
    - ii. This is a low risk since the DB is not exposed, but good practise to do so.
